Manager Hired For Windmill

Developments for Windmill Island occupied City Council on several fronts at its regular meeting Wednesday night.

Council unanimously approved a recommendation of the city manager to retain the services of Jerry Fairbanks as manager of Windmill Island working full time six months of the year and part time six months for an annual fee of $5,000.

Fairbanks, a native of Holland, was retained as part-time manager last April, devoting a share of his time to the local project and serving as president and general manager of the Au Sable Lodge Ranch and Ski Club. He attended local schools and Hope College and was graduated in 1934 from Michigan State University with a bachelor's degree as a landscape architect.

Council also approved a Windmill advertising program for 1965 as proposed by Adex Advertising Co. calling for a total of $18,242.88 plus an amount not to exceed $500 for the distribution of a brochure.

The program would start in May and carry through August with the exception of painted billboards which would be year-around advertising.

Plans call for 14 billboards for the months of May, June, July and August to be located on state and interstate highways in Michigan, listing Brighton, Dunee, Marengo, Kalamazoo, South Haven, Saugatuck-Douglas, Pierson, Boyne Falls, Grayling, Clare, Whitehall, Grand Haven, Holland, Mackinac City, Flint, Pontiac and Detroit.

The program also calls for painted boards, illuminated year-round signs 10 feet high and 40 feet long, with a 10 by 15 foot panel of the windmill superimposed, located on I-94 near New Buffalo and on I-96 east of Grand Rapids.

Included in the program are 200,000 copies of a three-color brochure being printed by Klaasen Printing Co., and a contribution of $500 to Tulip Time for cost of printing and mailing 120,000 copies of the Tulip Time brochure with picture of windmill on front cover and descriptive copy on back.

The "saturation" publicity program also calls for four-inch ads in leading newspapers in Michigan, Chicago, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Indianapolis, South Bend, Toledo and Christian Science Monitor, and advertising in the summer issues of the AAA magazines circulated in Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and Indiana.

The financial statement of the Windmill Island Recreational Facilities Construction Fund revealed a Dec. 31 balance on hand of $240,438.56 of the original bond issue of $450,000.

Among the larger expenditures to date are $13,000 for land and riparian rights, $27,800 for windmill and dismantling, $40,111.94 for foundation and lower structure, $8,346.02 for re-assembling, $1,441 for trees and shrubs, $24,507 for gardens, $8,412.50 for architects and engineers fees, $2,755.88 for legal fees, $22,482.59 for capitalized interest covering 18 months and $20,000 for capitalized operating.

Council Has Busy Session

Several reports of City Manager Herb Holt were considered by City Council at its regular meeting Wednesday night in City Hall.

Holt reported that a study of constructing a sidewalk on the north side of Eighth St. between Fairbanks and Lincoln Aves. was not feasible mainly because of switches of the C and O mainline. The subject of safety of children in the area had been discussed on many occasions. An accompanying sketch revealed flasher signals, hand switches and signs in the right of way and four separate tracks to cross in the block. A report of the C and O division engineer also was included.

Holt also reported on city-owned property at 53 West 12th St. and the justification for retaining it. A sketch showed the history of property acquired in connection with City Hall, showing a consistent pattern over the past 50 years of acquiring property as such time as the property became available in anticipation of future needs.

It was recommended that this pattern be continued and that in the absence of a better use the entire area on 12th St. could be devoted to extending landscaped offstreet parking lot for which there is a continuing and apparently insatiable demand. His report was accepted as information.

Another city manager report was on the proposal to transfer the Harold Knudsen property from Laketown township to the city and from Hamilton school district to Holland school district. In view of the fact that the school transfer would involve action by Hamilton school district, Allegan County Intermediate school district and Holland school district, Holt recommended that the matter be referred to the Holland Board of Education for written assurance that the three districts are in agreement on the transfer. Upon receipt of such assurances, it would be appropriate for Council to consider a resolution to be adopted jointly by the city and township to accomplish political annexation.

Council approved the city manager's recommendation to hire Dwight D. Ferris, certified public accountant, for the post audit for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1965, at a fee of $4,850, same as last year.

Council set public hearings Feb. 17 on four proposed street paving projects recommended by the city manager. They are Central Ave. from Third to Fourth Sts.; 37th St., Pine Ave. west 504 feet; Central Ave., 37th to 40th Sts., and Central Ave., from 40th St. to US-31 bypass.

Another recommendation to

John Molenaar Succumbs at 65

John Molenaar, 65, of 182 West 20th St., died early this morning at Holland Hospital where he had been a patient for the past eight days.

Mr. Molenaar had been a Holland resident all of his life and owned and operated the South End Greenhouse for more than 15 years. He was a charter member of Maple Avenue Christian Reformed Church.

Surviving are two sisters, Miss Alta Molenaar of Holland and Mrs. Henry (Ada) Smeenge of Holland; a brother, Benjamin Molenaar of Howard City; several nieces and nephews.

pave Kollen Park Dr. from 11th to 12th Sts. as part of the perimeter route was tabled for two weeks. This would not require a public hearing since the recommendation calls for costs to be paid from the Motor Vehicle Fund. The route follows the railroad spur.

City Manager Holt announced he would be absent from the city Feb. 9 through 11, attending meetings in Ann Arbor, and designated City Clerk D. W. Schipper as acting city manager during that period.

Claims against the city filed by Harvey Poll, 597 Crescent Dr., and Hotel Warm Friend, 5 East Eighth St., were referred to the city attorney and insurance carrier.

By a vote of 7 to 2, Council approved a resolution in connection with condemnation proceedings on property at 55 West 13th St. just west of Herrick Public Library, directing City Attorney Gordon Cunningham to institute necessary proceedings on behalf of the city in the proper court. Gene Vande Vusse and Mayor Nelson Bosman dissented, Vande Vusse on the premise that condemnation should not be necessary since other property just a bit farther away is available.

Council acknowledged gifts of books to Herrick Public Library including "Children for Adoption," presented by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steffens in memory of Mrs. George Danson and "Queen Victoria" and "Life and Thought of Albert Schweitzer" from Mrs. William Westveer and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Westveer in memory of Mrs. Arend Bosman.

A summons from Ottawa Circuit Court in which Howard Van Order was named plaintiff and the Michigan Municipal Employees Retirement System and city of Holland as defendants in a retirement suit was referred to the city attorney.

A petition from residents on West 14th St. requesting parking be eliminated on both sides of 14th St. for a distance of 150 feet west of River Ave. was referred to the Traffic and Safety Commission.

A letter from Marvin Albers Co. seeking to purchase city-owned property on the northwest corner of College Ave and Sixth St. was referred to the city manager for study and report.

City Engineer Leaving for New Position

City Engineer Laverne Serne today announced he is resigning his engineering post in Holland to take a new position with the Department of Public Works in Battle Creek, effective March 1.

Serne who has been with the street department here just over 10 years is returning to a department where he has worked on two previous occasions. Following his graduation from Michigan State University in 1950 he was employed by the Battle Creek department until he entered the Air Force and served in Korea.

After military service, he returned to his post in Battle Creek and was there nine months when he came to Holland in October, 1954, just two months before the arrival of Herb Holt as city manager. On Aug. 1, 1956, Holt named Serne city engineer succeeding Jacob Zuidema who had been with the engineering department for 46 years.

In his new post, Serne will serve as assistant director of public works, a department which handles the street program, all engineering, water, sanitary sewer, drainage and inspection services.

Jane Hohmann Engaged To Charles A. Krahmer

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hohmann of 147 West 12th St. announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Elizabeth, to Charles Alan Krahmer of Andover, Mass., son of Mrs. Charles E. Krahmer of Maplewood, N.J., and the late Mr. Krahmer.

Miss Hohmann is a graduate of St. Louis University and until recently has been employed by Honeywell Electronics Data Processing in Wellesley, Mass.

Mr. Krahmer attended Middleburg College and was graduated from Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N.J. He is a systems analyst for Honeywell Electronics Data Processing.

They plan to be married in Boston Feb. 27.

City Okays Interceptor Sewer Plan

By unanimous vote, City Council Wednesday night approved installation of interceptor sewer lines to three outlying areas in the city, a program calling for a public vote to approve general obligation bonds totaling $1,875,150. The vote is expected to be held in connection with the spring vote April 5.

Council also voted to hire the law firm of Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip of Detroit as bond attorney for the project.

The three projects are known as the northeast interceptor serving Holland Heights, the southeast interceptor serving Apple Ave. area and the new industrial park, and the Lakeview area interceptors which also serve South Shore Dr.

With the installation of the necessary laterals, construction of these interceptors will provide the framework for providing sanitary sewer service to all areas in the city limits. Guy E. Bell, superintendent of the Board of Public Works, said.

On a map, Bell traced the northeast project starting at Seventh and Columbia, proceeding to Eighth St. and east to 112th Ave., then two blocks south to a lift station.

The southeast interceptor would start at 16th St. and College Ave., proceeding east to Lincoln, south to 21st St. and angling to 24th and tie in with present facilities to continue to 27th and Brookside, and south across the bypass 600 to 700 feet south of 40th St., angling back to 32nd St. and the railroad tracks near Modern Products plant.

The Lakeview Interceptor would begin at 16th and Pine, west to the boat docks and on South Shore Dr. to 156th Ave., with three separate interceptor lines south to 32nd St.

Bell said it would take at least a year for completion, pointing first to more complete plans and specifications, engineering work, obtaining some rights-of-way, determining financing and letting bids.

He said the interceptors would range in size from 24 inches to 12 inches and certain force lines of 12 to 15 inches.

The bond issue, if passed, would not be on the 1965 summer taxes, it was determined.

Council delayed action on the sewer program two weeks ago in view of studying possibilities of including the Lakeview project. Previously the Board of Public Works had recommended installation of the north-east and southeast projects. A mail program distributing 600 cards to city residents west of Graafschap Rd. brought a response of 235 in favor and 130 against the third installation, and the Board of Public Works then recommended all three.

Water and Sewer Lines Approved For Plant Site

City Council Wednesday night unanimously adopted a resolution recommended by the Board of Public Works giving assurances of water and sewer services to Beech-Nut Lifesavers, Inc., of Canajoharie, N. Y., which is proposing construction of a new development on a 98-acre plot in Holland's new industrial park in the southern part of the city.

This action removes one of the last barriers in months of engineering study on a program in which Holland is expected to acquire a highly desirable new industry.

"All other competition has been eliminated," said Roscoe Giles, executive vice president of the Holland Chamber of Commerce and manager of the Holland Economic Development Corp., also known as HEDCOR.

The lengthy resolution provides assurances for installing a 16-inch water line by Sept. 1, subsequent installation of a booster pumping station and a 5,000-gallon water storage tank at 48th St. and Waverly Rd., plus a sanitary sewer line, and a sanitary system which calls for installation of an aerated lagoon for treatment of factory wastes.

Beech-Nut would be paying its proportionate share of all costs, it was pointed out. Some of the installations would service the entire industrial park while others such as the lagoon would be exclusively for Beech-Nut in which case the company would pay all costs.

Giles said Holland has been working with Beech-Nut since last April, a comparatively short time in view of the fact that some exhaustive studies take a great deal longer. He praised Council, the mayor, the city manager and the Board of Public Works for outstanding cooperation in lining up the necessary information on a score of fronts.

He said general plans call for a new building of some 200,000 square feet for a confections plant to produce Lifesavers, candies and gum. Such a plant would employ about 350 persons, men and women on a 50-50 basis. A second stage in 1970 would call for somewhat similar construction of 200,000 square feet for processing baby food, involving another 350 employees, equally men and women.

Factors leading to selecting Holland as site for a new plant were availability of a good site, adequate services, available labor market and a variety of factors in which the cleanliness of the city, the character of the Holland people, and the educational picture, emerged as highly desirable features, according to Giles.

Giles added in compiling information, considerable use was made of the Fantus report, a study Council contracted for some years ago. One factor in the Fantus report pointed to the need for diversification in industry, particularly in the field of non-durable products. Acquisition of a Beech-Nut plant turning out consumable products fits this recommendation excellently, Giles said.

Electric power to the Beech-Nut plant would be provided by Consumer Power Co.

The parent plant of Beech-Nut operations is located in Canajoharie, N. Y., on the Mohawk River between Schenectady and Utica.

Snow Hits 21.2 Inches In January

A total of 21.2 inches of snow fell on Holland during January and most of it was piled up at the end of the month, according to weather Observer Lynn P. Wheaton.

Earlier in the month, Holland had several days of mild weather with no snow, but cold weather the latter part of the month more than offset the above freezing readings with the result that the average temperature was 26.6 degrees or 2 degree above normal.

Precipitation measured 4.48 inches or 2.01 inches above normal, with snow, rain or sleet falling on 25 days. The heaviest amount, 1.02 inches, fell on Jan. 23, the day of the big sleet storm.

A maximum of 60 degrees was recorded Jan. 8 and a minimum of -7 on Jan. 17.

Maximum of 60 compared with 56 in 1964, 49 in 1963, 42 in 1962 and 48 in 1961. Minimum of -7 compared with -21 in 1964, -3 in 1963, -7 in 1962 and -9 in 1961.

Average temperature of 26.6 compared with 27.9 in 1964, 18.2 in 1963, 21.9 in 1962 and 23.7 in 1961.

Average maximum was 28.2, compared with 35.8 in 1964, 24 in 1963, 28.4 in 1962 and 30.9 in 1961. Average minimum was 18.7, compared with 20 in 1964, 12.4 in 1963, 15.4 in 1962, 16.5 in 1961.

Uninjured in Mishap

Louis J. Bagladi, 68, of 648 North Shore Dr., escaped injury when the car he was driving left the road and hit a telephone pole guy line Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Howard and Aniline Aves. Ottawa County deputies said Bagladi was making a left turn when his car skidded off the road.

Mrs. Fenna Wehrmeyer, of 402 Fourth Ave., is in Holland Hospital with a fractured back received when she slipped while removing snow from the flat roof of her home Monday. Her condition was described as good.

TULIP TIME COMING — By now, the snowfall is an old story, and the Sentinel takes pleasure in pointing to a brighter and more colorful day, namely springtime and Tulip Time. In a little over three months, this snowy area in Kollen park will have brilliant tulip beds and sweeping green lawns. Here Mary Ellen Mrok of the Sentinel news staff measures the height of artificial tulips instead of the depth of the snow. It was knee deep at this spot and even deeper in some other areas. Meanwhile, the Tulip Time committee and the Windmill committee are making plans for the 1965 Tulip Time festival May 12 through 15.

River Rouge Chalks Up 84-60 Win

RIVER ROUGE — The mighty River Rouge basketball team broke open a tight ball game in the last five minutes here Saturday afternoon to down the Holland Christian cagers, 84-60 before about 1,000 fans, including a large Holland delegation.

For 27 minutes, Coach Art Tuis' Maroons were in the game and within striking distance before three quick Christian errors permitted the opportunist Panther outfit to capitalize on them and shoot out to the victory margin.

With just over six minutes left, Holland, trailed by nine points, 57-48 and were still in contention. At the 5:37 mark, Christian was down, 59-49 before a defensive error on the fast break and two bad passes set up the turning point.

Up until the break in the final period, Christian had the Panthers in trouble on several occasions. During the third period, had 17 behind Price's 25 markers. River Rouge is now 12-2 while Christian is 7-5 and engages another rated club at Ludington next Saturday afternoon.

On Jan. 18, the Fourth grade Longfellow Camp Fire group made candle holders for our ceremonial which will be held on Jan. 25 at the home of our leader, Mrs. Avery Baker. Susan Scott provided brownies with cherries on. Our new officers this month are president, Darla Winter; vice-president, Susan Baker; secretary, Gail Harper; treasurer, Cindy Strickland; scribe, Marie Sherburne.

The Oda-kony Camp Fire group started making puppets at the home of their leader, Mrs. Cochran. We modeled the heads with paper mache. The name of our puppet show will be "The Comical Tragedy of Punch and Judy." Roxanne Ten Cate brought the treat. We continued working on them at the next meeting. We painted the heads today and made hair for them. We planned our costumes. Debbie Cochran brought the treat. Debbie Cochran, scribe.

On Jan. 18, the Daconia Wood Gatherers of Longfellow school met at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Bamboorough. Susan Lievense, president, opened the meetings and Mary Townsend brought the treat. We talked about requirements, our coming ceremonial and made symbolisms. Jan Weller, scribe.

Sunday School Lesson

Sunday, February 7
Parables of the Kingdom
Matthew 13:24-30, 36-43
By C. P. Dame

Daily our newspapers remind us that we are living in a world of evil. We do not know of the origin of evil but we are sure that some day evil will be abolished. This truth is not told us in our newspapers but it is recorded in the Bible.

I. God has an enemy in this world. And he is hard at work. This lesson teaches us this truth. The parable, which we are going to study, is found only in Matthew 13, the chapter which contains seven parables. Jesus spent much time outdoors. In this parable Jesus likens the kingdom of God unto a man who sowed good seed in his field. One moonless night an enemy of his, a jealous and mean neighbor, sowed bad seed, imitation wheat, called dandel, in the field. The wheat and the dandel grew up together. The servants of the owner reported what they had seen and he said, "An enemy hath done this." The servants suggested that they gather up the tares but the owner of the field ordered that both be allowed to grow up together and then at harvest time the separation take place.

God is the sower. The field is the world which belongs to God. The devil is the enemy. In this world evil and good grow side by side. Man is not able to separate the two here. God will do the separating in the time to come. Only God is able to do this.

II. There are two kinds of people in our world. The disciples came to Jesus and asked him to explain the parable which he did. The Lord sows good seed—the children of the kingdom. He plants his redeemed people all over the world. These people represent the Lord. The Lord's enemy, the devil, sows seed too. The tares "are the children of the wicked one." Today there are many children of the wicked one scattered all over the world and they are busy inciting rebellion, making riots, creating disturbances and peddling lies. Children and young people are constantly exposed to the lies of the devil and his agents.

III. The Lord will bring about a final separation between the children of the kingdom and the children of the wicked one. A judgment day is coming. This fact many overlook. The Bible says that the sheep and the goats, the good fish and the bad fish, the wheat and the tares will be separated. Two destinies face people. Some will be cast "into a furnace of fire, there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth" and others shall "shine forth as the sun, in the kingdom of their Father." Great indeed is the responsibility of hearing. The man who has ears should use them. Of course a person can misuse them but this is not wise.

We don't care to get into a discussion on the critical matter of the authorship of certain New Testament letters, but we do feel rather elated over another victory for the free expression of the human mind, which doesn't even allow itself the dictation of certain short words.

When all around us we see signs of conformity, we are happy to note that even the computer doesn't give any information, except as that information has been programmed by the mind of man. And when one comes to the truly creative, that which comes from the inner man, there seems to be no end to which that man can range. It may be that in some unconscious way he carefully eludes those who would treat him like the countable products of an assembly line. Many are glad he does. That's why the story about Dr. Ellison's conclusions caught our eye.

Republicans Told Unity Is Problem

GRAND HAVEN — Seventy persons attended the Ottawa County Republican convention in the court house here Thursday night and selected 35 delegates and 35 alternates to the state Republican convention Feb. 19 and 20 in Lansing.

The keynote speaker, Creighton Holden of St. Clair, hotel owner and member of Gov. Romney's committee on education, said, "Unity is our problem. I looked up harmony and unity, and there is a difference. Republicans get them confused. Our political system is at work in every one of our businesses. Any businessman who does not have any time for politics is the biggest kind of a fool!"

"We were trounced at the polls. Let's assume 17 million Republicans voted for Johnson. The pendulum will swing back. We can't afford the luxury of division in the party. We need perspective in our party such as shown by Winston Churchill whom the whole world is honoring."

"Republicans must remain positive. As Republicans we cannot afford to make so much of our differences and we must get on with the business at hand. We must look to 1966. We need unity at Lansing, and at home. The governor needs all the help he can get, and every Republican at Lansing needs all the help he can get."

About 350 guests were present at the ceremony performed by the Rev. Alex Newell following wedding music played by Mrs. B. G. Kay. White spring flowers and fresh greens decorated the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman E. Woodard of Owosso and the groom is the son of Mrs. William Tripp of Allegan and Delray, Fla., and the late Egbert H. Gold Jr.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Leonard Sasso, twin sister of the bride, as matron of honor; Miss Sharon Woodard, Miss Diane Woodard, of Owosso, the bride's cousins, and Miss Mary Jo Home of Owosso and Miss Victoria Delano Gauntlett of Kalamazoo, as bridesmaids; Elaine Mihara of Hazardville, Conn., as flower girl; Myron Foster of Oak Park, best man; Lee Woodard, the bride's cousin of Owosso, Edward C. Kennard, of Greenwich, Conn., Andrew Spence of Saginaw, John Stuart of Grand Rapids and Roger Friedman of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., as ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was groomed in candlelight ivory peau de soie. The basque bodice had a bateau neckline and the three-quarter sleeves were appliqued with hand made Belgian lace. The lace accented the high rise waist-line and the controlled skirt was trimmed in applied scrolls of the lace as was the unpressed pleated back which fell to a full court train.

Miss Woodard was the 17th bride in the family to wear the princess patterned hand made lace veil which cascaded over her dress and train. The veil belongs to her great aunt, Mrs. Fred Woodard.

Her attendants wore pale Nile green chiffon gowns designed with jewel necklines and elbow sleeves. French blue ribbon sashed the bodices with flat bows at the back. Attached flowing panels fell to below the hemline. Matching bow headpieces completed their outfits.

The bride's cousin, as flower girl, wore the same Nile green chiffon. Her floor-length gown was also sashed with French blue ribbon with bow and streamers at the back. To complete her outfit, she wore a circlet of tiny blue flowers as a headpiece.

The bride's corsage was fashioned of white ranunculus and spring flowers and her attendants' corsages were English nosegays in shades of blue to carry out the color of the sashes.

Mrs. Woodard, the bride's mother, wore a hand knitted ribbon lace gown, a slim sheath of deep sapphire blue over which she wore a matching V-neck jacket with a collar of white scalloped mink. Her headpiece was a white mink band and her corsage of white camellias was worn on a white French beaded and petit point bag.

The groom's mother was dressed in golden yellow peau de soie, complemented by a flowered hat in gold and yellow tones. She wore a green orchid corsage.

Following a buffet supper held at the Owosso Country Club, the couple left for a European honeymoon.

The groom will continue his schooling, possibly at an English university. He is a graduate of Leelanau schools and attended Carroll College in Waukesha, Wis. The bride attended the Principia in St. Louis, Mo., and was graduated from Leelanau School and Pine Manor Junior College at Wellesley, Mass.

If possible, students should have experience in working with different socio-economic and cultural groups. They should also participate in the entire range of teacher activities, including the direction of extra-curricular activities, conferences with parents, and attendance at faculty meetings.

A Christian college such as Hope is ideally equipped to provide the encouragement, the program, the faculty, and the field experience which will produce well qualified elementary teachers. It can provide the atmosphere for learning with a real purpose; it can stimulate the prospective teacher to live with a real purpose. To be able to understand the individual differences of young children as created by God, and to be able to see the importance of developing spiritual and moral values so that the child will live in a vertical dimension, as he finds his place in society — these are truly the goals of a teacher training program at a Christian college.

Dutch Score 92-75 Win; 8th Victory

Fine teamwork and excellent shooting gave Hope College's basketball team a 92-75 win over Elmhurst for its eighth win in 13 games Saturday night in the Civic Center before 1,200 fans.

The Flying Dutchmen face two tough road assignments Tuesday and Wednesday nights as they seek second wins over Lake Forest and Concordia before returning here Saturday night to resume MIAA play against Adrian.

Hope's team play was at its best, especially in the second half, against Elmhurst. The visitors played a pressing zone defense in the second half and this proved advantageous for the winners.

Frequently Hope was able to get the ball down the floor through the pressing zone and then found themselves in good position for layups.

The fast break also worked well for Hope. Many times a Hope player would grab a defensive rebound, fire the ball up-court, and a teammate responded with a layup.

But even though Hope's team play and shooting were going well, they had trouble springing clear and it wasn't until about midway in the second half that the winners broke the game open.

Because Hope was able to get many layups and did a good job of passing to open men, the shooting average soared. The winners finished with 51 per cent, the best this season.

Hope got 74 shots and made 38. But the majority of the baskets were inside or short jumpers. Hope made 19 of 36 shots in the first half and 19 of 38 in the second half.

The winners led 42-30 with two minutes left in the first half but the brief Elmhurst flurry cut the margin to 42-36 at half. The teams were tied three times in the second half with the last tie, 50-50.

Hope's 50th point came on a "wrong way" basket by Elmhurst's John Dancy, who got the tap on a jump ball, dribbled toward the Hope basket and scored. Floyd Brady, the nearest Hope player, was credited with the basket.

Hope's driving game responded for 11 points to Elmhurst's three in the next four minutes and that was the game. Hope completely controlled the rest of the game with its biggest spread 18 points (88-70).

Freshman Don Kronmeyer came through with another fine performance and hit on eight of 17 tries. He scored 16 points and trailed Brady and Clare Van Wieren. Brady had 23 and Van Wieren 22.

Brady's rebounding was superb as he picked off 13 of Hope's 45. Sub Chris Buys also was strong on the boards and in shooting along with Roy Anker. Buys had nine rebounds and Anker seven. Elmhurst got 40.

Van Wieren had 10 baskets in 21 tries and Brady, nine of 15. Buys sank four of five in the second half and helped trigger the Hope attack with some fine passes. Anker also hit four of five.

Coach Russ De Vette again received fine floor games from freshman sub Dave Bruinkins and Carl Walters, who made several fine "feeds" to the scorers. Hope played a man-for-man defense throughout.

Hope made 16 of 26 free throws and Elmhurst, nine of 24. The losers sank 45 per cent of their shots with halves of 16 of 37 and 16 of 37. Don Anderman had 19 for the visitors, who now have a 4-10 record.

Panthers Lose Fourth League Game

Godwin's basketball team kept a commanding lead in the Grand Valley League race as the Wolverines won their fifth straight league game, 88-66, at the expense of the West Ottawa Panthers in the West Ottawa gym Friday night before 900 fans.

Bruce Van Huis, who set a school scoring record of 33 points in the first meeting between these two hall clubs. Van Huis received a severe ankle sprain in practice. For the Wolverines Bob Van't Hof, who scored 22 points in the last meeting, saw only limited action because of a severe laceration of his right hand.

Godwin used their full court press to pick up several easy baskets as they kept the pressure on the West Ottawa guards all night long.

The Panthers were in the game until early in the second quarter. With 7:28 left in the second quarter the Panthers had cut the Wolverine lead to two points 24-22 but then the Wolverines gradually pulled away.

Godwin opened the scoring on a basket by Larry Hollemans. The Panthers tied the score at 2-2 and 4-4 early in the first quarter but trailed throughout the rest of the game. Godwin found the West Ottawa gym to their liking in the opening quarter as they hit on 11-21 for 52 per cent. The Panthers also had a fine shooting percentage in the first quarter as they hit on 8-16 for 50 per cent.

The Wolverines outscored the Panthers 21-16 in the second quarter to take a nine point 45-34 lead at the half. Some fine shooting from the charity line proved the difference as the Panthers had outscored Godwin 12-10 from the floor. Hollemans made 6-9 from the charity line while Dykstra added 2-3, Klunder 2-2 and Harmsen 1-2 for 70 per cent.

Godwin received balanced scoring in the third quarter as six boys scored. Hollemans, Dykstra, and Isler each had six while Klunder had four. Edwards three and Van't Hof, two.

Many of these baskets were the result of their fast break. Godwin built their lead to 20 points midway in the third quarter and kept it at 20 points until with 11 seconds left Edwards hit on a jump shot to give them a 72-50 lead at the end of the third quarter.

The fourth quarter was even as both teams scored 16 points in the final stanza. Paul Busscher led the way for the Panthers as he had two driving layups and two free shots for six points but this was not enough as Godwin won 88-66.

Starting early in the second quarter, the Wolverines outshutled the Panthers. Neither team had a boy over 6'2" but the Wolverines completely dominated both the offensive and defensive boards. With Hollemans, Edwards, and Isler leading the way, the Wolverines gathered in 66 rebounds to 30 for the Panthers.

Godwin had quarters of 11-21, 5-13, 12-22, 8-29 for a shooting percentage of 40 per cent from the floor and they made 16-23 from the charity line for almost 70 per cent. The Panthers had quarters of 8-16, 6-20, 6-13, 4-17 for a shooting percentage of 36 per cent from the floor and they made 18-34 from the charity line for 53 per cent.

John Isler had 24 points for the winners while Larry Hollemans followed closely with 23 and Tom Dykstra had 13. Dave Vizithum had 16, Paul Busscher 13 and Dave Farabee 11 for the Panthers. West Ottawa is now 4-6 and Godwin is 8-3.

The Panthers will travel to East Grand Rapids next Friday to try to avenge an earlier defeat suffered at the hands of the Panthers. At the present time the Panthers are in second place in the league.

Speaker Sets Airport Needs

A community the size of Holland should think in terms of an airport with 3,500 feet of paved runway and room for expansion, Ward J. Mayrand told over 100 persons at the second Chamber of Commerce early bird breakfast at the Hotel Warm Friend this morning.

Mayrand, supervisor of aviation information of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, said a landing strip of this size would meet present needs and still look to the future.

For long-range planning, Mayrand said, a community should look to the development of the business-type jet which would need a 4,000-foot runway. He added that several of these jets have already been sold in this country.

The development of an adequate airport, Mayrand said, can "open the door to tremendous opportunity." An airport can allow an area to get far greater use of recreational and industrial potential.

Mayrand outlined some of the changes in private airplanes in the last two decades. The developments have made flying far safer and far more dependable.

Mayrand added, however, that airports must keep pace with the developments in airplanes. The 1,500-foot strip that was used in the 1940's is no longer adequate, he said.

The paved runway at Park Township Airport is 3,100 feet, according to Park Township Airport manager John Van Wieren.

Talk on NATO Features Meet Of Century Club

Music, the universal language, was an appropriate overture for Century Club at the Vernon D. Ten Cate home Monday evening. The able playing of Claude Debussy's Suite Estampes by Charles Aschbrenner of Hope College's music faculty nicely introduced the subject of the evening.

His two engravings, or landscapes — one in France and one in Spain, the impressionistic "Gardens in the Rain" Jardin sous la pluie, and the supple Habanera rhythms of "Evening in Grenada" Soiree dans Grenade, set the mood for Richard K. Scharf, political scientist from the faculty of the Illinois Institute of Technology, to lead the audience into the intricate problems facing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, better known to Americans as NATO.

The three major problems which face the Atlantic community, said Scharf, concern the economic aspects of the countries involved as illustrated by the common market controversies, the historical overtones which permeate all policies of colonialism, and the ever growing military threat stemming from the proliferation of nuclear armaments.

These stresses on NATO have tended to weaken it, and have made the political decisions made by its individual members seem increasingly important. The level of the Cold War has escalated to a point where NATO could become an anachronism. "We can no longer," said Scharf, "pledge our lives, and our sacred honor, for whom we are willing to risk nuclear destruction, and against whom do we retaliate once we are attacked?"

What, then, are the possible solutions? He listed three possibilities. The easiest is to keep NATO as a military alliance, maintaining the status quo. The ideal but least practical answer would be to have a full integration of Europe with the creation of a Western state which would include all the Western European nations and Canada and the United States, making one alliance and one economy — the strongest power in the world. This is unlikely in the foreseeable future.

The third possibility, and the most likely to succeed, is for the Atlantic community to create a broad consensus in which Europe and the United States increase the areas in which they agree economically, gradually formulating policies in which the Federalists and the Functionalists can move forward together in mutually beneficial ways.

A spirited question and answer period followed the lecture before Mr. and Mrs. Carl Harrington's committee served refreshments.

Mrs. B. G. Van Leuwen, club president, welcomed the members and guests, and announced that the March meeting will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Arendshorst and that the program will be a panel discussion of Holland Tomorrow with Marvin C. Lindeman as moderator assisted by Willard C. Wichers, Roscoe Giles, and Donald Ihrman.

Authorities Cite Need For Meat Inspection

"Uniform statewide programs of meat and milk inspection should be established."

These words, taken from Governor Romney's "State of the State" message Jan. 14, came as a surprise to many people. The public has long assumed that its food, especially meat, is inspected under regulations of the federal Pure Food and Drugs act.

The Pure Food and Drugs act, based on Congress' right to regulate interstate trade, covers only foods produced in one state for sale in other states. Congress has no power to require the inspection of meats that will not be sold outside the borders of the state in which they are produced. This is left to the state governments.

Many states, however, including Michigan, have no regulations providing for the inspection of meats during the slaughtering process. The job of guaranteeing wholesome meat to the public is passed on the counties and municipalities. If their governments fail to set up programs of inspection, the public is sometimes left unprotected.

Many local governments may have regulations demanding inspection of meats, but only seven cities and 12 counties in Michigan have actual meat examination programs, according to Sam Stephenson, director of Holland's Department of Environmental Health. These cities are Detroit, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Saginaw, Coldwater and Hillsdale.

The counties, Stephenson said, are Bay, Oakland, Ingham, Macomb, Wayne, St. Clair, Mason, Shiawassee, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Washtenaw and Grand Traverse. Ottawa and Allegan counties have no inspection requirements.

Stephenson said, however, that about 60 per cent of all the meat consumed in Michigan is covered by these 19 programs, since they are set up in the most populous areas of the state. They form an "umbrella" of protection for the areas around them as well, he said.

Holland is protected under the "umbrella" of Grand Rapids. Holland has an ordinance that prohibits the selling of uninspected meats within the city limits, but has no program of inspection.

Since most of the slaughter houses in this area sell meat to Grand Rapids, however, they are inspected under the Grand Rapids program. Holland accepts the inspection of the Grand Rapids Health Department, and packers inspected by that department can sell meat in Holland.

Another 32 per cent of the meat consumed in Michigan comes under the surveillance of federal inspectors because it comes from or is produced for use in other states, Stephenson said. Most "chain" groceries, he said, sell this type of meat because their operations are usually state or nationwide.

Nevertheless, 8 per cent of the meat consumed in the state is left uninspected. According to Dr. John Godisak, director of Grand Rapids' meat inspection program, this uninspected meat, if not well-cooked before consumption, can be the carrier of several diseases.

Tuberculosis, tapeworm and toxin-caused food poisoning can result from the consumption of poorly-cooked diseased meat, Godisak said. There is some evidence, he added, that cancer can be communicated from animal to man.

These diseases can only be detected by close inspection of the slaughtered animals' internal organs (postmortem inspection), Godisak said. A live animal may seem healthy after a precursory examination of the external surfaces of its body (antemortem inspection) but still be diseased. Consequently, diseased animals may be unknowingly slaughtered in an uninspected slaughter house.

Most of the slaughter houses in Ottawa and Allegan counties have antemortem and postmortem examination of the animals they slaughter because they sell meat in Grand Rapids and Holland. Since the two counties have no meat examiation requirements, however, a few plants that do not sell meat in these cities can slaughter and sell meat without government inspection.

Godisak and Stephenson both feel that a state law providing for the inspection of meats during the slaughtering process is needed to correct this situation. Such a law was introduced last year, Holland's sanitarian said, but its supporter sought to put the program under the direction of the state department of agriculture and the bill was defeated.

Stephenson favors a law which would put the program under the department of public health because, as he said, "meat inspection is designed to protect the public health, and that's what the public health department is for." He said the existing municipal programs are doing a good job, and should not be abolished and replaced by a program instituted by the state. Instead, he feels, they should be left intact and new programs should be established in areas where there are none now.

Under the present setup, Stephenson said, the slaughter houses bear most of the cost of inspection because they pay the inspectors. Under last year's proposed state program, however, the cost was to be borne by the packers through a license fee paid to the state. Stephenson felt that the license fees would not cover the expenses and that the balance of costs would become the burden of the tax payers.

Whatever the pros and cons concerning the proposed programs, Stephenson and Godisak say one thing is certain: there should be a law.

The Chix pushed to an early 10-point lead but the Eagles cut the margin to four points, 19-13 at the quarter. Zeeland soared back to 10 points in the second period and held a 37-27 halftime lead.

Three fast breaks at the start of the second half resulted in baskets and pushed the Chix in front, 43-27. They continued in command the rest of the quarter and enjoyed a 65-46 third period lead.

Zeeland scored the opening basket of the fourth quarter to lead, 67-46, and the 21 points was the game's biggest buge. Coach Paul Van Dort inserted his subs for the next five minutes and Hudsonville lowered the margin to 10 points, 71-61.

Volleyballs

Like the snow?

The enthusiasm on this subject is pretty well geared to the age of the person and whether or not he embraces winter sports.

Skiing on the slopes at Carousell Mountain is lots more fun than shoveling the walks. And don't forget the driveway approach after the plows have passed for the umpteenth time. And while you have the shovel out, remember a path for the mail carrier, particularly those steps which probably still have ice on them from that nasty sleet storm more than a week ago.

Remember the fire plug in the front yard too. You'd be doing the fire department a service if you dig it out, and yourself a real service if it's your house that catches fire.

Perhaps the sloggingest lot of men tramping through snow are the meter readers. There is seldom a path to the light meter.

We add this one to the weather notes.

A gray fox was spotted in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Rhodes, 2054 Lake St., on the north side on Jan. 22. It was running on the ice on Lake Macatawa.

Ruth Athey figures she has received something of an "ultimate" in postal service. She received a Christmas greeting addressed Mr. and Mrs. B. Athey, no address, no city. Inside, there was no signature on the card.

Speaking of ultimates, the Sentinel has received one to top all others. From press agents to public relations experts, the onslaught of mail day after day develops a thick skin and the need for really big waste baskets.

Literary Club Briefed On U.S. Foreign Policy

Complexities of U.S. foreign policy, particularly as it relates to European countries, were reviewed by Richard K. Scharf of Chicago, a member of the faculty of political and social sciences at the Illinois Institute of Technology, at a meeting of the Woman's Literary Club Tuesday afternoon.

After reviewing the operations of NATO, the European common market, the proliferation of nuclear arms, the similarities and differences in heritages and cultures, all in the framework of a rapidly changing age, the speaker said there were no easy solutions and the few he suggested had little likelihood of acceptance.

Money from the United States is one of the easiest answers (much easier than mental or physical energy) but also the least effective, the speaker said. This, in many cases, extends the status quo policy after the status quo has ceased to exist, yet countries are reluctant to change established policies for fear something may be worse.

As one possible solution, he suggested returning to the old-type diplomacy in which delicate questions might be resolved on a private basis, but said he had received little popular acceptance of such a feeble suggestion. To be free and above board in international negotiations appears highly desirable to the people and to the press, but in this give-and-take margin, people become highly excited if a nation should appear to be giving more than it receives, and political pressures take over.

The decline of diplomacy may be traced directly to rapid communications, he said, explaining in the old days the diplomat had considerably more power than today. In those days, two months might elapse before a diplomat reached his destination, a sharp contrast to today's batteries of private telephones on a president's desk.

Scharf also suggested the possibilities of one Western Nation taking in the United States and Canada plus the European continent, headed by one president, one legislature and one foreign policy. He said this would be an ideal solution but not a practical one. Defining politics as the art of the possible, he said there will always be many compromises, and it is good for nations always to broaden the base and seek agreement, but nationalism is far from dead.

The cost of living and gross national product in Europe are advancing at a rate greater than in the United States, but Scharf figured it would probably be until the end of the century before the standards would be equal. He also saw a threat in the industrialization of China—"If it progresses at the rate it has maintained since 1947 China can rule the world."

As for the proliferation of nuclear weapons, this is an area which can change everything rapidly. The atom bomb is no longer a secret. He pointed to an experiment in which six graduate students were put into a room and with the aid of only known facts and engineering manuals designed a nuclear weapon in 30 days.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Kenneth Koolker, club president, who called attention to a guest meeting Feb. 16 when the three Questers chapters of Holland will present a program on antiques.

Tuesday's meeting marked the 51st anniversary of the dedication of the clubhouse. A birthday tea followed the program. Division 3 headed by Mrs. H. J. Menzies and Mrs. Elmer Plaggemars arranged the tea. Pouring were Mrs. Adrian Klaasen, Mrs. Russell Klaasen, Mrs. Wendell A. Miles and Mrs. John H. Van Dyks. Mrs. Carl Harrington arranged the flowers. Door hostesses were Mrs. William C. De Roo and Mrs. John Opt Holt.
